Dixieland's Industries Will Figure Largely in Proposed Revision by Congress.

PROTECTION IS REQUESTED

Demands of Tobacco and Peanut Growers Will Attract Renewed Attention.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Match 16 .- Although the Southern States are not represented on the sub-committee of the Ways and Means Committee, which framed the tariff bill, the Democratic framed the tariff bill, the Democratic members of the full committee made every effort during the hearings which preceded the deliberations of the Republican members to bring out every important fact regarding the articles named in the tariff which are produced in the South. A number of Congressmen from Southern States appeared before the committee, and the arguments presented for securing protection for the industries in Dixieland formed one of the features of the hearings.

tion for the industries in Dixteland formed one of the features of the hearings.

The influence of the American Sugar Refining Company, the so-called sugar trust, on the cane sugar industry was interestingly discussed by Colonel D. D. Colcock, of New Orleans, representing the New Orleans Sugar Exchange, Mr. Colcock declared that the American Sugar Refining Company refines about 50 per cent. of the sugar refined in this county, and admitted that the company dictates the price which it pays for cane sugar in Louisiana.

"Is not the value of the cane sugar in Louisiana, the price of it for refining purposes, practically fixed by the American Sugar Refining Company, and not by the markets of the world?" asked Representative Under-year the Louisiana sugar producer sold is sugar to the Refining Company at a price largely below the world's price, with the tariff duties added?" pursued Mr. Underwood.

"Not only last year, but to-day," was the reply.
Colonel Colcock declared that the sugar trust fixes the price at which the jobber sells to the retailer, and declared that the methods the refining company pursues in beating down the price at which they buy the sugar from the Louisiana producers are "damnable." Colonel Colcock favored protection, contending that the greater advantage the refiner has the more he can afford to pay for the raw sugar. sugar.

Duties on Tobacco.

On the whole, the tobacco growers of the South expressed satisfaction with the South expressed satisfaction with the duty on their product. A. B. Carrington, representing the Tobacco Association of Danville, Va., urged that the duty on Turkish tobacco be increased from 35 cents a pound to $1.85 cents a pound, which is the duty imposed by the Dingley tariff on Sumatra leaf. The further claim was made that the Turkish tobacco is in a large measure supplanting the bright tobaccos raised in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, and that the Turkish government prohibits the importation of this American tobacco.
